Please provide a short summary of the work that was completed as part of this project / program / initiative *

Due to the generous funds from the Council, the 1st Marton Scouts were able to cover the annual hall insurance costs which is one of the largest expenses we face annually. This enables us to safely store equipment and provides a stable and protected base for the group. It also helps with fundraising efforts as we hire out the hall to the community.

Community Initiatives Fund Project Report Form

Application No. CIF00050 From 1st Marton Scouts - The Scout Association of New Zealand

Form Submitted 1 Feb 2025, 3:35PM NZDT

Outcomes

Describe the main findings in your evaluation of the project and how it benefited the community: *

Over the year, we have been able to hire the hall out to community members and have formed a good association with the local archery club who now use our facilities. This also benefitted the 1st Marton Scouts by providing another form of income which helped cover the balance of the hall insurance.

Our club numbers have remained fairly stable over the year. Importantly, so has the support of the leaders who have been growing their own skills. This means that in term two 2025, we are looking to expand the Scouting levels we provide. In 2024, we have been supporting Cubs (8yo-11yo), this will expand to include Scouts (11yo-14yo). We have found that our Cubs have formed some good friendships which builds a stronger community, especially since they may attend different schools.

Our Cubs have also been successful with attaining a number of badges. We have attained "Better World" and "First Aid" Badges, among others. On average, each Cub has attained at least 4 badges of different types - some independently with their families, others within the Cub pack environment. This brings confidence and a range of skills. It is interesting as a number of our Cubs are from low decile areas/schools/families and it is good to see them get these opportunities together.

What worked really well: *

Being consistent with the programme and providing behaviour incentives such as "Cub of the term" and "Cub of the Year". It was good to see them celebrate each others success. It was also good to bring different parents together to form bonds over their children's participation in Scouts.

What didn't work so well/could be improved? *

There was sometimes inconsistencies with the events programme and also some leader's attendance. This was highlighted by the 1st Marton Scout committee and it was made clear to the leaders that until we did better at this, we could not expand. Term 4 as a result was much more consistent.

Additionally, now that I am putting together this report, I feel we could have done a better job celebrating the many generous people, businesses and organisations that made donations to the Scouts over the year.

Community Initiatives Fund Project Report Form

Application No. CIF00055 From Bulls & District Community Trust

Form Submitted 28 Mar 2025, 4:07PM NZDT

Describe the main findings in your evaluation of the project and how it benefited the community: *

Thanks to the generous funding we received, we are now able to move forward with installing a lockable outdoor cage for our fantastic collection of giant outdoor games. Previously, these games were stored in the Trust's upstairs storage room, limiting access to times when the Coordinator was available. Now, with the new outdoor storage solution, our local Tamariki can easily enjoy these games anytime, fostering more opportunities for play, social interaction, and outdoor activity. Additionally, families passing through our community will be encouraged to stay longer, creating a more vibrant and welcoming space for all. Partnering with a Marton company helped us reduce costs, allowing us to complete this project more efficiently. This initiative not only enhances accessibility but also strengthens our community by providing a fun and engaging space for children and families to connect. We are incredibly grateful for the support that made this possible!

The traps are not difficult to deal with - volunteers are able to manage the re-setting of the traps. Regular visitors to one Reserve offered to do this for us including a young man going for his Gold service award.

What worked really well: *

Right now the traps will be attracting and killing the nasty little pests (rats, mice, stoats ,hedgehogs) that compete with the birds for food and eat their eggs and their baby chicks.

The traps are proving to be effective and time and perseverance will prove effective

What didn't work so well/could be improved? *

We are considering other traps (possibly as well as these) as some traps become more sophisticated and suitable for the distances we travel. They are expensive. More funding!

Outcomes

Describe the main findings in your evaluation of the project and how it benefited the community: *

We noticed with a range of different bags, we were able to pack goods more conveniently to hand out. Eg when we had a range of different fresh fruit and vegetables, we pre-packed a mixture for each client, which made it much easier than having loose items in their parcel eg 2 carrots, 3 potatoes, 2 apples, some beans.

We received large bags of peeled kumara, more than small households would use in time, so repackaged these, with 2-3 pieces in small ziplock bags. We got large quantities of cream cheese, and could put a lump of this in small ziplock bags.

This way our food benefitted a larger number of people.

What worked really well: *

A group of volunteers came each week prepared to pack up bags of whatever we had received, doing 50 - 60 bags. Then it was ready to go.

What didn't work so well/could be improved? *

We are more aware of which bags we use most of, and what else we need.

Targets

Please report on your success at achieving the three targets you identified in your application.

Target 1: *

We have been accessing food as much as possible to continue our operations, and distributing it to clients who come along each week

Target 2: *

We work to be compliant in terms of food handling safety

Target 3: *

We have very little food waste, and much of the food we use, which may have otherwise been destined for landfill, we are able to give out. We have three freezers, so can store prepackaged food, mostly meat and bread, but also vegetables, soups, hummus, etc.

Over the period covered by this grant (November), our Parkinson's Educator had 10 contacts with people with Parkinson's, their whānau, and care partners in the Rangitikei District. This contact included 4 face-to-face visits, and 15 phone calls. The local Educator also made 6 referrals to other health professionals such as physiotherapists and speech therapists and facilitated 1 support group in the region which saw 30 attendees.

Outcomes

Describe the main findings in your evaluation of the project and how it benefited the community: *

The contact summarised above is at the heart of our service, because it helps to ensure people with a Parkinson's diagnosis are provided with the best support and up-to-date information, and that they are not left isolated.

Our October 2024 survey results provide an insight into how our clients and care partners are benefitting from our services. Both carers (96%) and people with Parkinson's (92%) felt more connected to their community by participating in social and exercise groups facilitated by our Educators. As noted by one respondent, 'exercise class provides structure and opportunities to socialize'.

Early intervention and support for people with Parkinson's also ensures more positive health outcomes for communities. Our services play a crucial role in this respect by ensuring that people with Parkinson's are as healthy as they can be and that they, their whānau, and care partners are supported to make positive informed choices about their healthcare.

In 2019-2020 our social impact was valued by Deloitte New Zealand at $15.9 million; adjusted for inflation, that figure is now $17 million. Our expenditure for 2023-2024 was $2.27 million meaning the value of our social impact is approximately 7.5 times greater than our investment. This has positive benefits for the community by reducing pressure on local health services.

What worked really well: *

Home visits and support and exercise groups are very useful in reducing isolation and loneliness. We also know that the information provided by both the Educator and on our website is extremely useful to clients and care partners.

What didn't work so well/could be improved? *

We are always seeking to increase our capacity which would enable our Educators to have more contact with clients. We receive no central Government support and are reliant on donations, fundraising and grant making to fund our services. We have also noted that a few clients feel that improved access to technology would help them to feel more connected.

This grant will help ensure improved health and well-being outcomes for people with Parkinson's. Our 2024 Clients Survey showed that 86% of clients felt they could better manage their Parkinson's because of their interactions with their Parkinson's Educator. This is an important outcome as good management allows people to remain more active and more connected to their community.

Target 2: *

The grant will contribute to improved psychological outcomes for people with Parkinson's and for their care-partners. Our support groups and social activities helped to increase social contact and prevent social isolation. 95% of respondents to the survey who attend support groups experienced one or more benefits to their wellbeing including 92% feeling more connected; 87% feeling an increased sense of belonging; and 73% feeling an increase sense of self-esteem.

Target 3: *

The grant will contribute to improved physical outcomes for people with Parkinson's. Of the respondents who received advice concerning their medication, 74% noted a positive change and reduction of side-effects. Targeted exercise classes improve mobility, balance, strength, and agility which decreases the risk of falls and improves independence and reduces reliance on others. Our survey results show that 96% of clients who attended an exercise class found them useful, with 61% reporting improved balance and 55% increased mobility.

Please provide a short summary of the work that was completed as part of this project / program / initiative *

The committee at Forest and bird have been able to purchase lures and cannisters for our traps in the reserves. The more kills we get the quicker the traps need replenishing so with the sheer numbers of pests being killed this has proved to be financially demanding and time and travel consuming but very satisfying work for the volunteers.

Form Submitted 2 Mar 2025, 1:12PM NZDT

Outcomes

Describe the main findings in your evaluation of the project and how it benefited the community: *

At McPherson's Reserve we made 20 kills in the past 6 months (57 for the year). At Pryces Reserve the numbers 27 and 77.

In the visitor book at Pryces a regular visitor has commented at the increase in bird song! Thank you, RDC. Its such difficult regular work checking and working the traps so every dollar helps.

What worked really well: *

The traps work, the Reserve manager has been able to determine which lures seem to work best and where to place them.

What didn't work so well/could be improved? *

No, things are going well with the traps.

How many people benefited from your project *

Birds and all the creepy crawlies they need to live have benefitted and all who value the forest and bush.

No, the budget worked well. We just applied to the CIF for the hardware and the firm supplying them had quoted on-line through their website and the $$ was just about bang on.
